Joining Forces: Book Arts in Collaboration

Kitty Maryatt and Sammy Lee

An Exhibition in the Norlin Library
December 5, 2012 – March 8, 2013

Norlin East Lobby
“Kitty Maryatt: Limited Editions from the Scripps College Press”

Norlin West Lobby:
“Artist’s Books by Sammy Seung-min Lee of Studio SML | k”

Kitty Maryatt: Limited Editions from the Scripps College Press:
The Scripps College Press publishes and sells books created collaboratively by undergraduate students who take the Typography and the Book Arts class with Kitty Maryatt at Scripps College in Claremont, California. The students write the texts, make imagery, set metal type by hand, print by letterpress, and bind the limited edition of about 100 copies in the one-semester class.

Artist’s Books by Sammy Seung-min Lee of Studio SML | k:
Sammy Seung-min Lee is a book artist and proprietor of Studio SML | k in Denver, Colorado. Sammy incorporates her diverse studies in fine art, design and architecture to push the boundaries of her books by investigating and experimenting with spatial, narrative, and sequential qualities. She studied bookbinding under master bookbinder and book artist, Daniel Kelm in Easthampton, Massachusetts.

Special fee-based workshop: “Let Me Count the Ways” [to sew signatures together] with Kitty Maryatt, March 1-3, 2013, 10a-5p, Ewing Farm, Lafayette, CO. For details contact Sammy Lee at sammy@studiosmlk.com

For more information: Deborah.Fink@colorado.edu